

U.S. And Britain Work Together Again In U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Britain and the United States, together again after their split over Indian attendance at the Korean political conference, laid plans today to throttle any more U. N. debate on the conference until after the parley is supposed to get underway.

The Allied strategy, reportedly supported by the other 14 U. N. members which send troops to Korea, is to shove any discussion of Korea to last place on the agenda of the U. N.'s 60 nation Political committee.

That would postpone further U. N. talk about Korea until well after the tentative Oct. 28 starting date for the peace conference.

Such postponement would thwart Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky's plans, announced Tuesday, to revive in the Political Committee his demands that the U. N. discuss Communist China's bid for India and other neutrals to attend the conference.

The United States trounced an identical Vishinsky demand for Korean debate Tuesday in both the steering committee and the General Assembly. U. S. sources were reported confident they could win a third round also.

Britain originally supported the view that neutrals should be represented at the peace parley, but her delegation now takes the position that the question has been settled and there is no point in re-opening debate.

Veterans Calm In Plane Mishap

MILES CITY, Mont. — A passenger in the non-scheduled airplane that caught fire and made a belly landing here Tuesday said 37 homeward bound Korean veterans should be congratulated on their calmness.

The passenger, who refused to be identified, told The Associated Press there was no panic.

None was injured. Seven crew members aboard also escaped harm.

The C46 twin-engine Caribbean-American Airlines plane was carrying the soldiers from Seattle, Wash., to Boston and Baltimore. It had landed in this eastern Montana town of 10,000 to refuel.

"There was no panic," the man said. "Al was very calm. In fact, those soldiers should be congratulated on their calmness."

The plane was airborne before it was noticed that the right engine was afire. As it circled the city, passengers were told to remain in their seats until the plane came to a stop, then make a break for the escape hatches. The plane landed in a stubble field.

Stewardess Jan Minnick, Washburn, Ind., a small blonde, said everyone ran from the plane as fast as he could after the landing.

"The dust was so thick," she said, "that when we jumped from the plane we didn't know whether we were jumping 2 or 20 feet."

Capt. James Dillon, Burbank, Calif., the pilot, set the blazing aircraft down on the flat field about half a mile from the Miles City Airport.

Crooner To Wed Rita Hayworth

By JIM BACON
LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Dick Haymes, a crooner who had plenty of trouble with wives and Uncle Sam, takes out a marriage license today with Rita Hayworth, a gal who has had her share of husband trouble.

Haymes and the glamorous screen star pick up the wedding license at 4 p.m., CST. That is just one hour after he gets a divorce from Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes.

The Argentine-born singer and the actress will be married Thursday morning in the Sands Hotel, where both have been guests for some time. It will be marriage No. 4 for both.

The couple spent a quiet night on the eve of Haymes' divorce action. They ate dinner together in Miss Hayworth's room while her two young daughters, Rebecca, off-spring of Orson Welles, and Yasmine, daughter of prince Aly Kahn, had their dinner in the hotel dining room.

A friend said that Miss Hayworth's stay here has been confined mostly to her room. She has been here to be near Haymes while he established his six week residence required for a Nevada divorce.

Allies Make Final Delivery Of POWs Sick Of Communism

SEOUL — The U. N. Command today turned over to neutral Indian troops the last of some 22,600 prisoners who renounced communism.

With the final delivery came a surprise announcement that the Allies will not send observers to watch the arrival at the neutral zone Thursday of 359 Allied soldiers the Reds say don't want to go home. They include 23 Americans, according to a Communist newsman.

Coaxing Starts
The Allied announcement added "we have confidence in the ability of the CFI Custodial Force, India to carry out its mission."

India ordered 600 reinforcements for the 5,000-man force which will guard the unrepatriated POWs.

Starting Friday or Saturday, Allied and Communist interviewers have 90 days to try to coax their former soldiers to come home.

A new source of tension in the eight-week-old truce was a statement by Lt. Gen. S. E. Anderson, U. S. 5th Air Force commander, that the U. N. has had "two recent indications" that the Reds moved jet warplanes into Korea after the July 27 signing in direct violation of armistice terms.

Allied radar has tracked arriving Red planes, Anderson said.

MIG Flown To U. S.

A North Korean pilot who fled to South Korea Monday reported jet and propeller planes were moved into North Korea after the truce.

The young North Korean flier who brought a nearly new, undamaged MIG15 to South Korea Monday vanished from public sight after giving a news conference in Seoul Tuesday.

The North Korean will receive a $100,000 reward for bringing the U. N. Command its first operational MIG.

The Communist jet was crated Tuesday and loaded aboard a giant C124 cargo plane which took it on the first leg of a trip to the United States.

It will be taken to the Air Materiel Command at Dayton, Ohio, where experts will analyze it.

Ohio Youth Admits Vicious Murder Of College Sweetheart

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio — A quiet youth who planned to become a minister is in Wyandot County Jail today accused of viciously murdering his teen-age college sweetheart.

The sheriff and prosecutor of Wyandot County say 19-year-old Roy Roger Schinagle Jr., of Hayville Heights, confessed killing Cynthia Pfeil, 19, White Plains N. Y.

They say he sobbed a story Tuesday night of brutality and signed a confession covering nine typewritten pages.

Meet At Shack
They say Schinagle—described by neighbors in his Cleveland suburb as a "nice, quiet, youngster,"—tore 17 gashes in Cynthia's face with a lead pipe. They say that he strangled her and bruised her body. Today they were trying to find out why.

Widow Of Insull Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO — Mrs. Margaret Insull, 80, widow of Samuel Insull the one-time public utilities magnate, died today at St. Luke's Hospital. She suffered a stroke a week ago and was taken to the hospital from her Lake Shore home.

Mrs. Insull was a leading actress who appeared under the name of Gladys Wallis before her marriage to Insull in 1899. She had lost the sight of one eye in 1947 and in 1950 became totally blind.

The Insull power empire collapsed in 1932 and he fled to Europe. Mrs. Insull followed him and later when he was seized she returned and was with him during his court trials and acquittal in federal charges of mail fraud. In 1937 they returned to Paris where Insull died a year later.

Mrs. Insull, who is survived by a son, Samuel Insull Jr., an insurance broker, and a grandson, Samuel Insull III, had lived quietly in Chicago since the death of her husband.

AT one of his trials, Insull had told the jurors he was penniless, but at one time he had a fortune estimated at 100 million dollars and the value of his companies was estimated at four billion dollars. He once sat on the boards of 65 firms, served as president of 11, controlled a utilities network embracing 6,000 units in 37 states and Canada, employed 75,000 persons and dominated 600,000 investors.

Bulldozer Turns Up
Cash In Chickenyard

LOS ANGELES — Eleven years ago, when Contance Mertens' uncle was on his deathbed, he told her there was money buried in the chickenyard.

Tuesday, a bulldozer grading the site for an automobile sales yard, turned up three glass jars containing $1,000 in silver and currency.

Miss Mertens was watching when the money was uncovered. She gave each of the eight workmen one of the silver dollars as a memento.

Welcome Given Gen. Dean, Back From Captivity

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean came home Tuesday night, three years of Red captivity etched in his tired face and declared:

"I want you to get it out of your heads that I'm a hero—I'm not. I'm just a dog-faced soldier."

"I feel like a million dollars. I almost sent a challenge to Rocky Marciano," heavyweight boxing champion.

Battled With Bazooka

The tall, erect Medal of Honor winner was given a hero's welcome as his plane landed at this huge air base 40 miles northeast of San Francisco under a brilliant moon.

Dean's part in the Korean War lasted a month in the harrowing summer of 1950 before he was captured. He was awarded the nation's highest military decoration for his valiant, last-ditch defense of Taejeon—in which he battled personally with a bazooka.

An Air Force C97 strato-cruiser brought Dean, and seven other repatriated American war prisoners, into a reception of glaring television and news camera lights and the tenderness of reunion with his family.

The general had been out of the country six years, in Japan and Korea.

Wears No Ribbons

His wife, Mildred, climbed into the plane and into the general's tight embrace.

Then Dean, smiling self-consciously, led her down the ramp.

The 54-year-old general wore no medals or ribbons, only the shoulder patch of his old 24th division.

Near the plane Dean and his wife were joined by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dean. He held both women tightly.

A few feet further on, the general's daughter, Mrs. June Williams, flew into his open arms. Then came others—19 relatives in all.

Dean's son-in-law, Army Capt. Robert Williams, stepped up with his son, Robert Dean Williams, 2½.

WASHINGTON — Adlai E. Stevenson will have lunch with President Eisenhower at the White House a week from Thursday, to summarize his observations on the trip around the world which he recently completed.

The two, rivals for the presidency last year, met in Washington shortly after Eisenhower took office and the President asked Stevenson then to make a personal report when he had returned.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Tuesday that Eisenhower, while vacationing in Colorado, had written to the former Illinois governor and renewed the invitation.

Ban On Athlete Awards Backed

MACKINAC ISLAND — Michigan school administrators today supported Superintendent of Public Instruction Clare L. Taylor's ban against prep athletes who accept merchandise "rewards."

The educators supported Taylor's plan for an overhauling of rules and policies governing high school athletes.

Taylor said that a special committee within a week will tackle the job, the first revision in 25 years.

The committee will be composed of high school administrators, coaches and others concerned with school athletics.

The schoolmen, attending the Michigan Association of School Administrators' annual meeting here, supported Taylor in the controversy over nine prep athletes who have been barred from competition this year because they accepted merchandise "rewards."

In a resolution, the educators declared:

"The MSA commends the state superintendent of public instruction for his refusal to approve awards of merchandise to high school athletes. This association pledges full support to him and to the Michigan High School Athletic Association in their efforts to sustain and improve athletic services to the students in the high schools of Michigan."

Premier May Hang

TEHRAN, Iran — An informed Army source said today that Iran's government would ask a military court to sentence ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh to hang on charges to be announced probably in "three or four days."

Mossadegh was arrested Aug. 20, the day after a public uprising in which 300 persons were killed—swept him out of office.

Italians On Strike

ROME — Communists and non-Communist unions called millions of Italian workers to strike for periods of up to 24 hours, beginning at midnight tonight, in support of demands for higher pay and increased job security.

On her way to the 20th floor she made numerous incoherent remarks and told a building policeman "I want to be sure you aren't a Communist."

President Says Labor Law Has Several Defects

ST. LOUIS — President Eisenhower, in a message to the American Federation of Labor, today described the Taft-Hartley Act as essentially sound but promised to ask Congress in January to correct "a number of defects."

The President gave his message to Vice President Nixon to deliver in person.

It came in the midst of hot controversy between the White House and Eisenhower's former secretary of labor, Martin Durkin, over whether the President backed out of an agreement to support certain specific changes in the labor law.

Changes Being Studied

Eisenhower did not refer directly to this controversy.

Durkin told the AFL Tuesday Eisenhower had promised to send Congress 19 specific amendments to the Taft-Hartley law but repudiated this understanding. Durkin said that was why he resigned from the cabinet Sept. 10.

The White House denied that Eisenhower had made any decision on changes or any commitment.

Eisenhower said in today's message that deliberations on modifying the law are still going on and "I shall send my own suggestions to the Congress at the opening of its session in January."

Base Is Sound

He expressed the view, however, that the enactment of the law by the Republican 80th Congress "was a substantial contribution to the quest for sounder labor-management relations," and he declared: "I believe that the experience under the act has confirmed its essential soundness."

Eisenhower said that Durkin's participation in the talks on revision of the law had been of great value and that the secretary's resignation was "unfortunate."

The President said that reconsideration of the law is too serious a matter to be governed by passion and name calling rather than reason and common sense.

"Epithets of 'anti-labor' or 'anti-union' and the like are worse than empty," the President said. "They are utterly obsolete in a climate of opinion and understanding that realizes the folly of class-hostility."

Eisenhower said the purposes of

Tribune Tower Rescue On TV

CHICAGO — Television viewers today saw the dramatic rescue of a distraught woman who climbed to a ledge of a skyscraper and threatened to jump to her death.

For more than an hour police, firemen, a priest and office workers called across from a fire escape appeals to her to reconsider and return inside. As abruptly as she had climbed out on the 20th floor ledge of Tribune Tower she was hauled back to safety.

Shortly after the suicide threat became known WBBM — TV began putting the real-life drama on the air for viewers in the Chicago range. It also fed it into the Columbia Broadcasting System network.

The rescue was accomplished when the woman, Millicent Armin, 36, of 2735 N. Division St., reached back into the building to pat her pet boxer dog. Someone grabbed her arm and pulled her inside.

Once during her long tense self-imprisonment on the ledge a policeman offered her coffee. When it was brought, she asked for sugar and cream.

She had come to the Tribune Tower in a taxicab with her father, Sigmund, operator of a chess club in his home, after having asked the caddy to drive her to various addresses. Her father was waiting in the cab when she made the suicide threat.

New Heat Marks Left Behind By Summer Of 1953

(By The Associated Press)
The 1953 summer season, one of the hottest and driest in many years in the eastern half of the nation ended today and there were no cheers for a return engagement.

The scorching heat and no heavy rainfall dealt damaging blows to crops and livestock in many sections. The losses ran into the millions of dollars.

Weather Bureau logs in scores of cities from the Rockies to the Atlantic Coast bulged with new heat records.

First Frost Felt

The nation's most prolonged heat wave of the season was in late August and early September. In some sections in the nation's eastern half the blistering weather—temperatures in the 90's and above 100—showed no letup for as long as 10 days.

Thousands were treated for heat prostration. Scores died from causes attributed to the heat.

The drought continued to plague farmers and ranchers in the Southwest and in parts of New England and the South.

The nation's weather has been fairly pleasant the last three weeks. The arrival of the autumn season at 2:07 a. m. CST today was preceded earlier this week by frost and freezing weather in some areas.

In the Atlantic Coast area, only five other summers in New York City Weather Bureau records—dating back to 1871—were hotter than 1953 on an over-all basis.

Drought Is Costly

In the Midwest, temperature records toppled almost daily during the August-September heat wave. In Illinois, readings were 95 or higher for 10 straight days. Chicago had 39 days of 90 degree readings or higher compared to a normal of 13 for the summer.

South Carolina reported one of the hottest summers in history. Tennessee had 15 new heat records during the summer. In Kentucky there were several periods of five and six straight days of temperatures between 95 and 100. Some sections of North Carolina had the driest July and August ever recorded.

The drought was a major problem in Texas and several Southern states, including 50 counties in Arkansas, four in Mississippi, and 15 in Kentucky designated as disaster areas and eligible for federal aid.

Three Killers Face Gas Cell Deaths At San Quentin Prison

LOS ANGELES — The deadly gas chamber of San Quentin prison looms today for convicted killers Barbara Graham, John A. Santo and Emmett Perkins.

After 5½ hours of deliberating, a jury Tuesday found the much married Mrs. Graham and her two gangsters pals guilty of the first degree murder of 62-year-old widow, Mrs. Mabel Monahan.

There was no recommendation for clemency, and California law thus makes the death penalty mandatory.

Wanted $100,000

Mrs. Graham, 30, and the two men face sentencing Friday for the brutal beating and garroting of crippled Mrs. Monahan in her Burbank home last March 9.

The state contended the gang, led by Santo, sought $100,000 believed hidden there by Mrs. Monahan's former son-in-law, Las Vegas gambler Luther Scherer.

Santo, 48, and Perkins, 44, also have been linked to northern California crimes, including the mass murder of grocer Guard Young and three small children in Chester last October.

Tears that welled in Barbara's eyes as she whispered:

"As long as they've found me guilty, I'd rather have the death penalty than life imprisonment."

Perkins snarled, "it's phony all the way through."

Gang Members Testify

Santo later told a newsman, "I'm innocent and I'm confident the state supreme court will reverse the verdict."

The prosecution's case was anchored to the eyewitness testimony of John True, member of the gang who turned state's evidence. True was backed by William Upshaw, another former Santo associate.

True's testimony was that he saw Mrs. Graham pistol-whipping the helpless Mrs. Monahan. Mrs. Graham, married four times and mother of three children, has a record beginning with reform school commitment at 13, followed by arrests on charges of prostitution, perjury, narcotics possession and passing bad checks.

Santo and Perkins are ex-convicts with felony records going back to 1924.

Demonstration Leaders Attend Class In Baking

About 65 Delta County home demonstration leaders saw Helen Rodgers of Chicago fashion coffee cakes, muffins with orange topping, rosettes, twists and bowknots during a two-hour bread-baking demonstration which the regional home economist of the Wheat Flour Institute gave Tuesday afternoon in Gladstone High School, Ingrid Tervonen, county home demonstration agent, said today.

Gladstone High School home economics students also watched the demonstration, during which Miss Rodgers sweet dough and doughs, a basic sweet dough and a no-knead dough.

Miss Rodgers split the no-knead dough in half and with one half made a coffee cake with crumble topping, Miss Tervonen said. She put the rest into muffin tins, and before baking the muffins, put a topping of grated orange rind mixed with sugar on the dough.

From the basic sweet dough, Miss Rodgers baked a whirligig coffee cake with honey topping; a cinnamon blossom coffee cake, and such dinner rolls as rosettes, twists and bowknots.

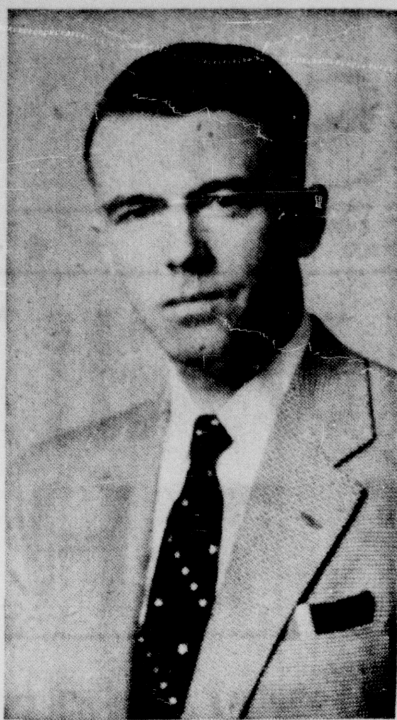

Miss Rodgers gave pointers on how to handle dough and how to shape rolls. The home demonstration leaders will pass on Miss Rodgers' lessons to their own clubs.

The Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association set up a range with double oven for Miss Rodgers' use.

The home economist is giving a demonstration for Menominee County home demonstration leaders Thursday afternoon at 2 in the town hall in Daggett, Miss Tervonen said.

Lytle, with an engraved wrist watch in behalf of the two groups. He also presented Sgt. Lytle and Cpl. Hemminger with paid up dues cards to the Post.

The supper was attended by approximately 200 people. Later in the evening a dance was held in the rear part of the Jolly Inn, with local music. The stage was decorated with a banner which read "Welcome Home Ken." Signs of "Welcome Home Ken" were displayed at all business places.

MIDDLETON, Ohio (AP)—Here's one of the most unusual things done by returned prisoners of the war in Korea.

U.P. Power Co. Takes Over Cliffs Lines And Will Build New Plant

ISHPEMING — V. P. Geffine, president of the Cliffs Power & Light Co., and J. D. Preston, general manager, yesterday announced that an agreement had been signed between the Upper Peninsula Power Co. of Houghton, and the Cliffs Power & Light Co., of Ishpeming, whereby the Upper Peninsula Power Co. will take over the transmission and distribution facilities of the Cliffs Co. and, in the future, will supply electric energy to customers formerly served by the Cliffs Power & Light Co.

These customers are the iron mines and other wholesale and retail customers in the vicinity of Ishpeming, Negaunee, Munising and the Inland Line and Stone quarry located near Blaney.

The Upper Peninsula Power Co. will transmit power from the Cliffs plants to the operations of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.

Preston stated that, through the formation of the Upper Peninsula Generating Co., the two companies will jointly own and construct a lakeside steam generating plant, the tentative location being in the Marquette area. J. H. Warden, president of Upper Peninsula Power Co., will also be president of the generating company.

The Upper Peninsula Power Co. will also build a transmission line from Humboldt to Atlantic, which will interconnect its present system with that of the system to be acquired from the Cliffs Power Co.

Preston stated that this was a major, forward step in the development of the territory, inasmuch as it will give both areas the economical advantage to be obtained from a large, centrally located generating plant. An economy will not only be made from the construction of such a plant, but also in its operations, and by having the two systems tied together it will enable them to take advantage of the diversity in the two systems.

Following the election and introduction of the new officers, lunch will be served at 12:15 in Memorial Union. The afternoon program will be started at 1:30.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Nellie Osterman, RN, and Miss Evelyn Larson, RN, of the Houghton-Keweenaw-Baraga-Ontonagon district, will consist of a panel on the rehabilitation of the handicapped.

Preliminary engineering and design work has been underway for some time on the new steam facilities. The first unit of 22,000 kilowatt capacity is scheduled for completion not later than January, 1956.

Power Requirements Doubled
Increase in use of electric energy by residential customers who are turning more and more to electricity for cooking, refrigeration, water heating and other household uses, together with increased use by commercial institutions and industries, creates a definite need for increased capacity throughout the area, Preston pointed out.

With the development of low grade iron ore mining, which Cleveland-Cliffs is undertaking in the Humboldt and Republic area, together with other increased mining operations, the use of power in the area will be more than doubled during the next few years. The companies realize that an ample supply of low-cost, dependable power is one of the basic necessities that must go into any such future developments.

Widespread publicity has been given to the Elasco Services report on the economic resources of the Upper Peninsula, and this report dwells at length upon the need for development of additional thermal electric power in order to foster industrial growth in the area. The report suggested a solution to the problem was a steam generating plant located upon the lake front, such as the one now proposed.

Faith In Area's Future
Preston stated that this was a major construction program, especially for the Upper Peninsula Power Co., which will be practically doubling its size, and that it not only shows the faith which the officers and directors have in the future of the area, but also the willingness of investment agencies to make such an expansion program possible proves their faith in the future prospects of the area.

While the agreement has been signed by the two companies and commitments have been made for most of the financing, it was explained that on a deal of this size there is a tremendous amount of detail work which has to be completed, such as obtaining the approval of Federal and state regulatory bodies, and that this work is being pushed as rapidly as possible so that the transfer of properties can be made by November 1.

Escanaban Sued For $16,687.50

A Cleveland, Ohio, couple and an insurance company are suing William Tornovich, Escanaba fisherman, for a total of $16,687.50 in a suit arising out of a 1951 auto accident.

Documents attesting to the suits have been filed in the county clerk's office.

Wynn Goodman of Cleveland is suing Tornovich for $15,000.00 for personal injuries, his attorney said today. Mrs. Marion Goodman is suing for $50.00 and the Insurance Co. of North America for $1,637.50, these suits being to recover the cost of Mrs. Goodman's wrecked car, a declaration filed in the county clerk's office revealed.

The declaration by Mrs. Goodman and the insurance company alleges that, on Feb. 7, 1951, at about 4:12 p. m., when snow was blowing across the road and vision was fair but limited, Daniel J. Walenta, who is believed to be of Lower Michigan, was driving Mrs. Goodman's car on M-28 in Seney Township, Schoolcraft County. Mr. and Mrs. Goodman were passengers.

Walenta was driving about 30, and suddenly saw, 100 feet away, Tornovich's car coming at 60 m.p.h., according to the declaration in the lawsuit. Walenta drove the car as far right as he could and had come almost to a complete stop when Tornovich's car skidded down the road sideways and crashed into the car Walenta was driving, the declaration alleged.

The declaration charges Tornovich was driving carelessly, and amplified this charge in several ways. It also alleges the Escanaba driver was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Walenta and Mrs. Goodman, the declaration says, were free of contributory negligence.

North Central Ask Exemption Order For Chicago To Detroit

North Central Airlines, pursuant to its application for a local service route between Chicago and Detroit, has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for an "immediate order" which, if granted, would permit the airline to inaugurate service in 30 to 60 days.

In granting the order, the CAB waves public hearings and other lengthy litigation in a procedure which usually requires from 10 months to a year.

In its application for the route, filed with the CAB Aug. 20, North Central further requested suspension of American Airlines service at the intermediate cities of South Bend, Ind., and Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Jackson, Mich. American Airlines presently operates one round-trip flight a day along this route.

It was suggested that if the calling for bids were delayed until spring, the cost would probably be proportionately lower and work could get underway then without delay.

North Central proposes an initial offering of two round-trip flights daily, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, with additional service as warranted by public acceptance. Questioned about the suspension of American Airlines, North Central expressed a desire to serve the area with or without the removal of American, but requested the suspension at this time, in order to dispose of all possible issues in one litigation.

In addition to bringing these cities the type of airline service they require, the 232-mile route would provide North Central a "round robin" operation between Chicago and Detroit and would afford greater flexibility in scheduling aircraft for inspection and maintenance. The carrier now serves both these points as terminal cities and claims many operating advantages by tying the two together.

The Minneapolis-based local service carrier has operated into Detroit via Grand Rapids and Lansing since April 4, linking the upper and lower peninsulas of Months Ahead Critical For Eisenhower And G.O.P.

PRESIDENT Eisenhower and his top budget men are soberly conscious that the months between now and next January are critical to all the Republican hopes of a balanced budget and lower taxes.

All the budget savings achieved or indicated thus far will not eliminate a sizable deficit in the fiscal year ending next June 30. (The deficit in the year just closed was $3.3 billion.)

On top of this hard fact must be placed the prospect of an 11 per cent personal income tax reduction and the elimination of the excess profits tax on business Jan. 1. Both these changes will take place automatically, unless Congress should unexpectedly vote their retention. And they will cost the government about $5 billion a year.

Moreover, next April 1 an addition $3

The Will To Compromise In UN

THE UN's quick action in barring for the rest of this year the issue of admitting Red China is actually a compromise, not a smashing victory for the United States.

Britain and other countries which favor Red China's entry into UN have not changed their minds. They have merely agreed to postpone their demands.

They did this in the interest of free world solidarity. The recent bitter UN fight over the question of allowing India to take part in a Korean political conference gave the Communists great pleasure. They enjoy seeing free nations fight among themselves. But Britain and the U. S. were determined it would not happen again—at least for a good while.

That the will to compromise the matter even for a few months could exert itself so forcefully is a good sign. We can't expect to avoid important differences with our allies. What counts is a basic desire not to let them split us seriously and permanently.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

A man wrote to me some years ago to inquire whether tickler could be used as a verb in such manner as, "Your file is being tickled to come to hand again."

Of course, it is possible to use almost any noun as a verb, but there was no need to distort the language to such an extent as that. He could have said, "By our tickler system, your file will be brought to notice again."

For those to whom that statement is Greek, I should explain that a tickler is any sort of memorandum which will remind one that a certain thing is due for attention. The tickler, in other words, "tickles" or jogs the memory.

That demonstrates to what ends we extend the meanings of words. In its main sense, as we all know, to tickle is to touch some part of the body of another in such manner as to excite the nerves and cause uneasiness or laughter. And, of course, tickle then meant easily tickled. But when we now say, as we do, "The international situation looks very ticklish," or make some like statement, all that is left of the main sense of tickle is the uneasiness. We mean delicate, critical, hazardous, requiring great care to avoid disaster.

But there is nothing of uneasiness intended when we say, "I'd be tickled to death to see Joan again." On the contrary, we mean, "delighted; greatly pleased."

Our friends of ancient Rome used titillate whenever tickled by anything. From this we have titillate ("TIT"-i-LAYE and titillation ("TIT"-i-LAY"-shun). We use them as exact synonyms of tickle and a tickling; we can, as did Dickens, "titillate the nose of one's aunt with a feather," or have a titillation in the throat. But ordinarily we reserve the terms to indicate sensations that stimulate or pleasantly excite the mind. Lively music which makes one feel like dancing is titillating. We are titillated by a story that pleasantly excites the imagination. Dare-devil stunts call forth a certain amount of titillation.

The Doctor Says . . .

Albuminosis Diagnosed Through Albumin in Urine

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

"My 20-year-old son," writes Mrs. B., "has albuminosis and cannot get a job because of it. He does not have any ill effects and I am wondering if diet can correct it. Please write on this subject soon."

It is impossible from this letter to know all of the circumstances concerning this young man. All that we know is that his urine has been found to contain albumin, which is a substance resulting from the destruction of certain proteins, and which is not normally present in quantity in the urine.

Why it should prevent him from getting a job is not clear because this is by no means a handicap which should alone prevent this young man from conducting most kinds of work.

The presence of albumin in the urine does call for investigation. The most serious possibility is that it may be a sign of Bright's disease, or nephritis, which is a disease of the kidneys. However, tests can be made to determine whether this is responsible, how serious it may be, and what can be done for it.

billion in regular corporation and excise tax cuts are due to take effect. Congress shows no desire to cancel the cuts.

Add this $8 billion loss to the several billion dollars of deficit already in sight and you get some idea of how great the President's problem is.

Of course, he may ask Congress to replace some of the lost revenue by voting substitute taxes. But the lawmakers have indicated no taste for this in an election year.

The alternative is drastic cutting, and even that may fall far short of balancing the budget. Nevertheless, the latest White House economy orders were the firm proof that the administration understands the size of its task.

The administration wants first to get further cuts, below-budget estimates in the current year's spending. Otherwise it fears federal agencies will not be able to adjust to the still more severe reductions needed in the 1955 fiscal year (starting next July).

It understands that the desired savings cannot be achieved merely by cutting back existing programs. Said the secret order: "The situation demands a new determination of what the government should be doing and should not be doing."

This is a frank challenge to agency heads to re-examine the usefulness of whole operations within their control, and to eliminate those functions which seem questionable in any way.

When you begin wiping out not simply dollars spent but whole programs, resistance mounts both in the affected agencies and in Congress itself. For the lawmakers never have been famous for voting out of existence federal activities which benefit their own states or districts. That is not what they mean by economy.

"No saving can be considered too small," said the economy order. Perhaps that phrase sets the key for the grimmest spending policy enunciated at the White House in 20 years. The question now is whether Congress and the federal bureaucracy will act in the same key.

GOOD-BY TO GALLUSES (Martha Vineyard (Mass.) Gazette)

Among the things of yesterday that have almost vanished from the summer scene are suspenders. The dictionary defines "suspenders" in the singular and says that a pair of them are used to hold up trousers.

In long ago summers there would be, say, a picnic or an impromptu baseball game. If the sun blazed hotly enough, Papa and Uncle Horatio would take off their coats, and then would appear the good, honest, unmistakably masculine suspenders, performing their appointed task. If Uncle Horatio ran in a footrace he ran with the diagonal tapes flexing across his shoulders.

The custom of displaying this accessory of the manly attire came naturally, for suspenders were what men wore, and the difference between city and country attire was mostly that, for the latter, a man unpeeled a little. He also reverted to his last year's coat and pants—the country was the place for wearing thing out.

If anyone sees a man in suspenders these days, he usually recognizes a survivor of times past. The change of habit is due to specialization. There is a costume or a gadget for every season occupation or hobby of mankind and summer has a prodigious choice of colorful garments, practically none of which allows for the external wearing of suspenders.

There is a limit to the sighing that may be done for the glories of the past. Some suspenders were glorious, but none deserve much of a sigh. The only thing is that they marked an era of good feeling, rather smug but comfortable, along with stogies, stiff-brimmed straw hats, pictures of President McKinley, hammocks the new safety bicycles, and a sense of peace and security in the world.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Though Democratic Jim McGranery is ex-Attorney General and Republican Herbert Brownell is Attorney General, they remain good friends. And when Brownell had been in the Justice Department for six months, he invited McGranery, the man he succeeded, to lunch.

Most of the top lawyers in the new Republican Justice Department were at the lunch and, as it closed, Brownell turned to McGranery and said:

"Jim, this is our six-month birthday. Have you any advice for us?"

"No," replied McGranery. "I don't think I have any advice—even on your six-month birthday. But the period of gestation is nine months. And if you'll invite me back in another three months I'll tell you whether the baby has a father."

Eight months have now passed as of this week, so it's not quite time yet for ex-Attorney General McGranery to come back and pronounce judgement on the work of his old department. However, here is one phase he might start looking into.

While Brownell, on the whole, is operating one of the best departments in the Eisenhower administration, some of the corruption cleanups promised by the Republicans haven't been moving at anywhere near the pace promised.

One of the most important, the deportation of gangsters and underworld characters illegally residing in the United States, has been especially slow. Though McGranery listed 133 criminals and underworld leaders illegally in this country, only two have been deported in the eight months that have passed since January 20.

The Justice Department explains that 20 gangsters are almost ready to be deported, also, that it takes time to prepare the papers and hear various appeals. A considerable number of subversives have been added to McGranery's list, it is also stated.

Nevertheless, two criminals deported out of 133 in eight months seems like awfully slow work.

SEARCHING FOR LABOR SECRETARY

Ike and his scouts have contacted about everyone on the labor front looking for a good man to take Martin Durkin's place as Secretary of Labor.

Chief scout is Vice President Nixon, who used the opportunity to make a little political hay with certain labor people. Obviously you don't make enemies when you call up a labor leader or a congressman who's not been too enthusiastic about Nixon in the past and ask him how he would like to be Secretary of Labor.

Among those contacted have been Ray Haney, able head of the Teamsters Union in Los Angeles, and Congressman Sam McConnell of Philadelphia. Haney is secretary-treasurer of the AFL union label and service trades and a comer in labor ranks. But he's too forthright a labor man to be accepted into the Eisenhower cabinet, and Nixon must have known it.

Congressman McConnell is a middle-of-the-road, fair-minded banker who would make an excellent Secretary of Labor, but whose exit from the house labor committee of which he is chairman would be a bad blow to labor.

If McConnell should leave congress and the labor committee, he would be replaced by one of the most reactionary labor-haters in congress, Ralph Gwinn of New York. Also on the house committee are such anti-labor men as Wint Smith of Kansas and Clare Hoffman of Michigan, so Speaker Joe Martin has given the quiet word that it would be bad for McConnell to vacate the chairmanship.

It won't do labor much good, Martin figures, to draft a new Taft-Hartley Act, then have the new chairman of the labor committee pigeonhole it.

Another man being pushed for the labor post is ex-Congressman Gerald Landis of Indiana, an ex-coal miner. Though a Republican, Landis voted for labor on almost every measure before congress; was the author of the Federal Mine Inspection bill and the industry-wide bargaining bill. He has the support of Senators Capehart and Jenner of Indiana, but some Ike advisers think he might be just as difficult to handle as Martin Durkin was.

Note—Ike's tactics in selecting cabinet officers are just the opposite from Harry Truman's. Mr. Truman usually announced a successor on the same day a cabinet member resigned, and as a result picked some beafts. Julius Krug, the man who replaced Harold Ickes, was a precipitous choice and was later eased out. Eisenhower, on the other hand, has all sorts of names thrown at him before he makes a decision.

British Battle Americans Over U.S. Air Base Near Oxford

CLOSING IN ON A U. S. AIR BASE in England, British paratroopers burst through fence under cover of a Bren gun. It's part of realistic maneuvers to train for defense against sabotage.

By TOM A. CULLEN

NEA Special Correspondent

LONDON—(NEA)—In among the wisps of yellow straw the cold steel muzzle of a rifle caught the glint of early morning light as the hay wagon slowly approached the air base at Upper Heyford, near Oxford.

It rattled past the sign: "Warning—U. S. Military Reservation," and although they had been alerted that "enemy" troops were in the region, the U. S. air police paid no particular attention. It was not unusual to see farmers hauling hay at dawn.

As the wagon came abreast of the main gate it seemed to disintegrate. Straw shot up into the air as a dozen paratroopers, fully armed, sprang from the rick and rushed the gate, overpowering and disarming the guards. Simultaneously their comrades opened fire from the base perimeter.

Sabotage? It could have been. But this was all part of realistic maneuvers the 7th Air Division, U. S. Strategic Air Command, is carrying out in cooperation with British Territorials, which correspond to American infantry reserves.

The 7th Air Division's bases in Britain are vital to the defense of the European continent. Purpose of the maneuvers is to defend these bases against surprise enemy attack long enough for the long-range bombers to take off to safety.

The exercises also provide valuable training for British reserve troops.

With the fourth of the exercises just concluded at Upper Heyford, it is planned to involve all U. S. bases in Britain in the defense training program.

In order to preserve the element of surprise, a base commander is not notified of the mock attack until an hour or so before it takes place. He then alerts all base personnel, taking the precaution to warn them that it is only a "training maneuver." All personnel, including cooks and bakers, rush to take up previously assigned defense positions.

As British troops and material are dropped from the sky in the dim light of dawn, a team of observers moves onto the base to umpire the maneuver. Troops fire dummy rounds, capture and interrogate prisoners, use such "ENEMY" LOST THIS ROUND as a British territorial is taken "prisoner" during mock attack on U. S. 7th Air Division base.

Trojan Horse ruses as the hay wagon to accomplish their mission. Afterwards a joint critique is held with both British and American personnel taking part.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

SCIENCE AND PUBLIC—The 83rd annual meeting of the American Fisheries Society held recently in Milwaukee, brought considerable enlightening information to the public.

Because of a dispute from diverse points of view the fish experts and the conservation administrators revealed information vitally important to the cause of conservation.

The fish biologists, all trained men who knew what they were talking about because the facts came from carefully conducted research, were up against the practical (and political) outlook of the conservation directors whose job it is to please the public—and state legislators who hold the purse strings.

How the two viewpoints clashed is amusingly reported by a Milwaukee Journal writer.

MICHIGAN'S MAN—One of three experts on a panel of outstanding biologists was Justin W. Leonard, research chief for Michigan's Department of Conservation.

Leonard declared that he wants biologists working for him who have basic training in the basic sciences.

The scientists agreed that the public is fickle, fails to understand the most rudimentary research report.

"Look at Michigan," said Leonard. "For years we have been saddled with a buck deer law when all the biologists in the country knew it was damaging the deer herds."

Another scientist pointed out that biologists are engaged in what is far from an exact science. There are too many variables, he said. And when they tell the public what's what "they brush it aside if it doesn't agree with their beliefs."

PLAIN ENGLISH—The question of whether a research biologist could write plain English was debated at some length, with the Milwaukee Journal reporter presenting conclusive proof.

"A smart research worker knows how to write plain English," said one smart research worker from Missouri.

The Milwaukee Journal reporter presented a gem from one of the biologist's abstracts to clinch the argument:

"External disinfections with rocal and pyridylmercuric acetate are used with very satisfactory results in treatment and prophylaxis of gill diseases which are most likely caused by superficial infections with myxobacteria."

This appeared to be conclusive that a biologist may be able to speak plain English but he is unable to write it.

THE VITAL STATISTIC—The fisheries experts were also advised of facts they apparently all knew before the speech was made.

This was that the program of planting hatchery reared trout only provides "put and take" fishing for those fishermen who are on the streams a short time after the planting is made.

It is futile to expect that tame trout can survive in wild streams, said the expert. Most are caught within a few days by anglers, the rest die. Those planted in the fall do not live through the winter to help stock the streams for the following year, he reported.

Why is such planting done? Because the fishermen who buy the licenses want it done and are willing to pay for such a program so they can catch a few tame trout in a wilderness setting.

THE TROUT TAKERS—Two Michigan research biologists added their bit to the meeting with a report on the percentage of trout that die after being hooked by fishermen and then released.

Fly fishermen caused death to less than 4 per cent of the trout caught and released as compared to 37 per cent of the trout caught and released when taken on worms.

This information, which no doubt required many long hours and days, and possibly weeks of research, appeared to be of small material value to anyone except to those who want to haggle over the virtues of fly vs. worm as bait.

The conclusion to the American Fisheries Society's 83rd meeting was a haze of confusion, with scientists and conservation administrators farther apart than the fly and worm fishermen. Ernie Swift, Wisconsin's conservation chief, summed up his opinion of biologists in a few well chosen words:

"Too many researchers are working in a vacuum. You're inclined to balk when the boss can't get the money for you. A man in public life has got to sell his product."

Apparently the experts in the fish and game business have a selling job to do to their own bosses.

Gov. Williams Sets Up New Task Force For Civil Disasters

By JACK I. GREEN
LANSING — Gov. Williams, heeding the lessons of last summer's Flint tornado, has revamped Michigan's organization for dealing with civil disasters.

He set up an "emergency task force" high command of top state officials and ordered it to get its plans in shape for dealing with disaster in any part of the state.

This task force, Williams said, will be under orders to move at once into any area stricken by a disaster beyond the facilities of local authorities and to assume control until local officials can organize to cope with it.

Maitland Coordinator
Williams renamed Brig. Gen.

Lester J. Maitland as state civil defense director and made him "strategic" commander of the task force. Gen. Maitland was ordered to remain at the OGD headquarters in Lansing and coordinate the overall rescue work.

The task force itself will be composed of the state police commissioner, state fire marshal, commanding general of the Michigan National Guard, state health commissioner, state highway commissioner and state welfare director. They were ordered to select subordinates who could act for them in their absence.

The governor said State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs would be the top field commander of the disaster force and that the state police would assume full control until local police were able to function.

Fast Action Assured
The state police was ordered to place its widespread radio, wireless, telephone and teletype communications system at the disposal of the civil defense office in time of emergency, or until the OGD can establish one of its own.

"This means," Williams said, "that in time of disaster all anyone has to do is call the nearest state police post or the headquarters at East Lansing and things will begin to roll."

The entire program announced by Williams confirmed earlier rumors that the governor was not impressed with the initial civil defense activities in dealing with the Flint tornado, but was pleased with the operations of the state police.

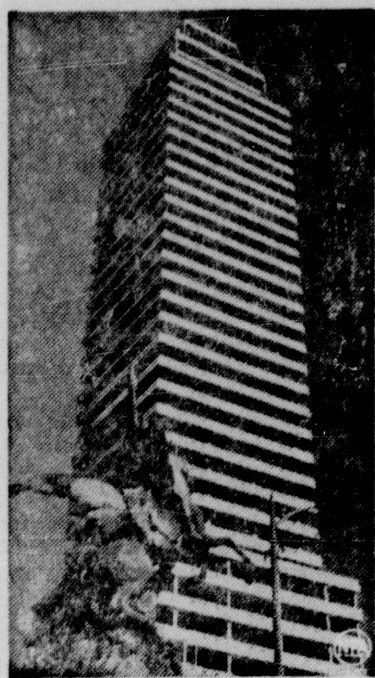

It has been said that Williams feels the state police is best equipped in facilities and experienced officers to perform an around-the-clock supervision of disaster relief.

Mechanical Failure May Be Cause Of MacInnis Tragedy

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.— Authorities believed Monday that the mechanical failure of his car caused a strange accident which resulted in drowning for 66-year-old John J. MacInnis, a new member of the Michigan Agriculture Commission.

MacInnis, appointed to the commission just two weeks ago by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, drowned Sunday when his car went out of control as he started it up and careened into the St. Mary's power canal.

After the car and MacInnis' body were raised from 20 feet of water Monday afternoon, mechanics discovered that the accelerator pedal was depressed and badly bent.

Tax Reduction Tough Problem For Republicans

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Money problems ride the back of the Eisenhower administration which would like to keep campaign promises by balancing the budget, cutting taxes and spending enough for defense, all at the same time.

Because of the uncertainty about the Communists, complicated by their progress with the hydrogen bomb, the administration may feel now it must move cautiously on defense cut. That will make tax-cutting and budget-balancing tougher.

Security Comes First
Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said in a speech Tuesday: "The great and really important reason, however, why it is most difficult to cut expenditures radically and bring forth a balanced budget and a tax reduction into quick being at the same time relates to our national security."

"With the real possibility of an atomic Pearl Harbor hanging directly over our heads, and with the knowledge of the Russian capability to produce an even more potent weapon, national security is a matter of first concern."

In this same speech Humphrey said flatly the administration will not try to prevent the excess profits tax ending, and individual income taxes dropping 10 per cent, on Dec. 31.

Congress Watches Votes
But Humphrey did not say the administration wouldn't try to get Congress to approve some kind of new tax to make up for the loss of all or some of that money.

He had said previously the administration was considering various ways of getting additional revenue, including a national sales tax, although it is questionable that Congress, in a congressional election year, would vote a sales tax.

President Eisenhower himself in a speech two days ago used a sentence which might signify much or nothing:

"There is no sacrifice—no labor, no tax, no service—too hard for us to bear to support a logical and necessary defense of our freedom."

E. M. Biggers said he hopes to present the automobile to the senator in time for the Sept. 29 wedding in Washington. McCarthy is to marry Miss Jean Kerr, former member of his staff.

Biggers said contributions of from $1 to $100 are being accepted from Texans "who approve and appreciate the fine work being done by Sen. McCarthy."

Two Children Die In Old Ice Box

BAINBRIDGE, Ga. (AP)—The nation's current series of suffocations in discarded ice boxes has added two Georgia children to its death list.

The bodies of Susan Hinchcliff and John F. Moran, both 4, were found in an old refrigerator Tuesday. A small dog lay between them.

The ice box had been stored in the family garage at Susan's home. Police said the children and the dog apparently crawled into the box to play and were smothered when the door slammed shut and trapped them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hinchcliff, Susan's parents, were away at work.

A series of multiple ice box deaths in other states began during August. Five children were smothered at Proctor, Ark., Aug. 12. Four others were victims of a similar tragedy about the same time at Richmond, Va., and two died in the same manner at Haverhill, Mass.

The Bainbridge tragedy occurred despite a campaign conducted by the fire department against abandoned ice boxes soon after such deaths began occurring elsewhere. The fatal box was overlooked in the safety drive.

Return Of Prohibition Predicted By W. C. T. U.

DENVER (AP)—Delegates to the 73rd annual convention of the Colorado W.C.T.U., Tuesday were told by national and state officials that prohibition may return to the nation sooner than anyone expects.

Said Mrs. Fred J. Toozee, Evanston, Ill., national recording secretary:

"The huge advertising campaigns by liquor interests are beginning to boomerang. Many people are becoming terribly concerned about the effect on young people, who have liquor presented to them as desirable."

"They're protesting."

Dock Union Gang Ousted By AFL

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The AFL Tuesday ousted its 60,000 member International Longshoremen's Association for harboring "gangsters, racketeers and thugs," and laid the groundwork for formation of a rival union.

Joseph P. Ryan, 69-year-old president of the I.L.A., made an unavailing personal appeal to prevent his union's ouster.

The vote for ouster was 72,362 to 765 votes, each vote representing 100 members of the union.

The convention resolution said a new AFL union will be established under a five-man trusteeship to try to take over all I.L.A. members wanting to remain in the AFL as well as take over bargaining rights and welfare funds now held by the I.L.A.

Ryan when asked what he would do now said:

"I will call the board together for the purpose of calling a convention and let the membership decide what to do."

The union has been accused by crime investigators of being infiltrated with criminal elements on the New York and New Jersey waterfronts.

Government Payroll Cut Of 188,000 Eased By Normal Vacancies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Philip Young of the Civil Service Commission says the government intends to trim its payroll by 100,000 more jobs, but actually fire less than half that number of persons.

The reduction, to be made by June 30, will be accomplished for the most part by not filling vacancies that come up in the normal turnover of personnel, Young said. He spoke Tuesday night to the Washington Society for Personnel Administration.

The reduction would make a total payroll cut of about 188,000 since the present administration took office and would bring the total federal force down to about 2,412,000. The high point, reached in June, 1945, was 3,700,000.

Terrifying Meteor Sighted Downstate

DETROIT (AP)—A bright, orange meteor with a long tail flashed through southern Michigan and northwestern Ohio skies Tuesday night.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority at Jackson picked up a pilot's comment that the meteor was "the largest I have ever seen—a terrifying sight."

State police reports calls from residents of Bay City, Bad Axe, Holly and Lake Fenton, near Flint, asking about the brilliant flash.

He would like to do.

Living Costs Reach Record High Mark; No Relief In Sight

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of living is at a record high. And the word today is that it's likely to stay that way for a while longer.

Even the breaks you've been getting from time to time at the butcher shop may be few and far between in the months ahead, in the opinion of some Department of Agriculture officials.

Wholesale food prices are now holding above a year ago. Officials doubt if the crop control programs to be put into operation next year will have much effect either in raising farm prices or lowering processed food prices.

Other Expenses Rise

Large carryovers assure big supplies. And the government's price support programs, plus floor processing costs, put a floor under the prices at the grocery.

But food prices haven't been the worst culprits in raising the total cost of living at a fairly steady pace since spring. Rents have continued to creep higher at various points in the nation. This summer the last of federal rent controls were lifted. And higher transit fares have added to the costs of workers in various cities.

Verdict Awaited By Killer Of 5

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—The trial of Fred Eugene McManus, 19-year-old confessed killer of five, is expected to go to the jury today.

McManus, a former Marine is accused of the pistol slaying of William Allen Braverman, a college student who gave him a ride as a hitch-hiker last March 27. Conviction could mean death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

According to McManus' confessions admitted in evidence, Braverman, 19, was his first victim on a crime spree with a teen-aged girl friend.

McManus has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

In summations Tuesday, the district attorney described the youth as "a wicked, merciless killer," while the defense attorney urged he be committed to a mental hospital as "dangerously insane."

McManus has confessed killing a couple in Illinois and two women in Minnesota while traveling in Braverman's bright red convertible.

The girl, Diane Marie Wegge, 16, was committed to Westfield State Farms as a wayward minor after the two were picked up March 31 in Dubuque, Iowa.

Higher stocks included Pennsylvania Railroad, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Standard Oil (N.J.), Kennecott Copper, Union Carbide, Douglas Aircraft, and Radio Corp.

U. S. government securities were easier.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued climbing today on the heels of Tuesday's sharp gains.

There were few large individual gainers, but almost all key stocks were higher by as much as major fractions. Losses were infrequent.

The volume of business was good and maintained a pace right around Tuesday's 1,300,000 shares.

Among the better acting major groups were railroads, steels, Motors, oils, coppers, radio-televisions and chemicals.

Higher stocks included Pennsylvania Railroad, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Standard Oil (N.J.), Kennecott Copper, Union Carbide, Douglas Aircraft, and Radio Corp.

U. S. government securities were easier.

his administration's re-study of the Taft-Hartley Act are these:

1. "To remedy defects which cause concern on the part of working men and women over possible results or uses of the act to their detriment."

2. "To insure administration of the act in the manner that is efficient, speedy and impartial."

3. "To allow freedom for the healthy growth of trade unions while respecting the legitimate rights of individual workers, their employers and the general public."

4. "To work to the end that there be less rather than more government interference in labor-management affairs."

Eisenhower said that soon after he took office he entrusted a study of the labor law to an informal committee of administration officials and legislative leaders.

This committee, the President went on, has "considered many specific proposals for amendment of the act, and is in substantial agreement on a heartening number of these."

Income Tax Slash Assured For 1954

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said the 10 per cent income tax cut will take place at the end of the year as scheduled, and also there will be no request for renewing the excess profits tax.

He said, in a speech for the convention of the American Bankers Assn.:

"The excess profits tax will expire Dec. 31, and there will be no request for renewal. At the same time an average of 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes is scheduled to go into effect, and it will become effective."

Humphrey's statement to the bankers also stressed the need, in the light of the Russian threat, to exercise caution in cutting taxes and defense expenditures. He said there is a "real possibility of an atomic Pearl Harbor hanging directly over our heads."

President Eisenhower had said only Monday night in his Boston speech that no sacrifice was too burdensome for Americans determined to thwart "enemies of freedom equipped with the most terrible weapons of destruction."

It was learned reliably that Humphrey's promise that individual and excess profits tax cuts will go through on schedule Dec. 31 was cleared with Eisenhower before delivery.

The administration source who reported the clearance said there was no conflict between the President's and Humphrey's statements. This source said other taxes would be sought to make up the loss of revenue if required for defense.

It is officially estimated that abolition of the excess profits tax and the 10 per cent in individual taxes would cost the government $1.5 billion dollars over a full year.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS — THE BEST BUY I EVER MADE SAYS 81 YEAR OLD MAN

Mr. Z. S. Norton, 23 College Street, Battle Creek, recently had this to say about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. "Arthritis was drawing my fingers out of shape and shooting pains in my legs made sleeping impossible before using your wonderful medicine."

"Rheumatism and arthritis first hit me about 15 years ago, but didn't become severe until the past four years. My knees, neck, shoulders and fingers got stiff and ached terribly. I didn't know there could be such pains. My knees and ankles were so puffed up that I had to use crutches to get around. I had to be helped in and out of cars as I couldn't lift my legs. My fingers were drawing out of shape and shooting pains through my legs kept me awake at night. I spent several weeks in the hospital, but I was just as bad off when I left, and wondered what in the world I was going to do. I had tried about all the remedies I heard of; even those you rub on, but with no relief, and was about ready to give up when I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. The first bottle made me feel much better and soon all of the pains and stiffness left me, and I could sleep like a babe. I can dress myself again and get around good for a man 81 years old. I don't need aspirin for pain anymore or soda for my stomach either, as O-JIB-WA helped me in so many ways. I firmly believe that the best money I spent in my whole life was for O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

School Administrators Set Up Scholarships For Thurston Children

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The broken dream of a college education was picked up and put back together today for the two children of Dr. Lee M. Thurston, U. S. Commissioner of education who died Sept. 4 in Washington.

A college scholarship fund for the children of the former Michigan Superintendent of Public Instruction was started by the Michigan Association of School Administrators, in convention here.

Jane Thurston, 26, crippled since birth, and her brother Robert, 16, a student at Lansing Sexton High School, lost their father to a heart attack barely two months after he had taken the federal post.

Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, dean of the University of Wisconsin's school of education, was made chairman of the fund's trustees. Estimates were that the fund would reach $10,000.

The idea was vigorously applauded by the 300 school superintendents and principals gathered for the teacher's convention.

Earlier today the schoolmen approved proposed state legislation that would place property tax

Swedish Communists Get Ready To Shout

By GODFREY ANDERSON
STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden's pocket-sized Communist party, long a small voice crying in a capitalist wilderness, is getting ready to shout louder.

Six provincial Communist weeklies will be converted into daily newspapers to bolster the official party organ "Ny Dag" New Day in Stockholm, the party central committee announced this month. Best estimates are there are less than 25,000 Communists now among Sweden's seven million, a sharp drop from the all-time peak membership of 60,000 the party claimed in 1947.

Professor Heads Party
Despite declining numbers, there apparently is no lack of party funds. The emphasis now is on fighting against what the central committee calls "American infiltration" and a recent party manifesto calls all Swedes to join battle against "the miserable newspaper comics and other expressions of the imperialist spirit of violence and culture decline."

Sparkplug of the new campaign is Communist Deputy Erik Karlsson, whom Swedes call the "Red Professor." Small, stocky, square-jawed Karlsson once taught at Lenin University in Moscow. As secretary-general he is virtually all-powerful in the Swedish party. Party Chairman Hilding Hagberg, who comes from Lulea in Sweden's strategic north, plays a secondary role.

Under the "Red Professor" and some 50 permanent officials, the party has softened its propaganda tone since the October congress of the Soviet Communist party. While warning of war, it talks mainly of peace and cooperation, but the United States is still the biggest enemy.

They Look Prosperous
Neutral Sweden's increasing trade with Iron Curtain countries—Poland, Czechoslovakia and Hungary all had exhibits at the recent Stockholm Trade Fair—is encouraged by deed as well as words. Some companies trading with the East are reliably reported to be managed by Communists who quit official party jobs for these assignments.

Communism in Sweden has never made much headway. The nation's generally high standard of living and its broad state social security system blunted Red weapons. Stockholm Communists parading on May Day probably are the best-dressed and most prosperous-looking comrades anywhere in the world.

Week's Ore Tonnage Totals 3,042,765

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Great Lakes iron ore fleet hauled 3,042,765 tons of iron ore in the week ended Monday, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported today. The season total of 74,865,706 tons is within 45,092 tons of equalling the entire amount of ore hauled during all of the 1952 season. The eight-week steel strike cut last year's shipments.

Jordan Dam Opposed

JERUSALAM (AP)—Jordan today joined Syria in protesting an Israeli plan to divert the Jordan River into a hydroelectric plant. Syria threatened Monday to shut off two vital tributaries of the Jordan unless Israel drops the project, which Syria claims would dry up 12,000 valuable acres of its farmlands.

"VOLCANIC BOMBS"
Volcanic bombs frequently are found near active volcanoes. These objects are hurled from the volcano while in a viscous state, and the rotary motion shapes them into spheres.

The light that didn't fail

It was 1 o'clock in the morning. To George Stevens, dial telephone switchman, the light on the panel meant that somewhere a telephone was off the hook. An improperly replaced receiver perhaps, or one dislodged by a frisky cat. On the other hand this might be a distress signal. That's what George Stevens thought as he plugged in on the line.

There was no mistaking the weak but urgent voice he heard—a woman calling for help. Quickly Stevens traced the connection to get the telephone number. Then he called another switchman to get the woman's address. Within minutes Stevens had notified the police who sped to the home of the stricken woman in Dearborn. They found an elderly woman helpless on the floor. Later at the hospital she told what had happened. A widow, living alone, she had suffered a severe heart attack that night. Though partially paralyzed, she managed to upset the table on which the telephone stood to summon help.

Police say that Stevens' prompt action "beyond a doubt" saved her life. Michigan Bell awarded him a Vail citation, a tribute to telephone people for outstanding service in emergencies.

Shirley Coen Is The Bride Of Barry F. Beaudry

Miss Shirley Coen, Terrace Apartments, Escanaba, and Airman Second Class Barry F. Beaudry of Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., were married Saturday, Sept. 19, at 4 p. m. in the rectory of St. Patrick's Church by the Rev. Francis A. Hollenbach.

A dinner at the Log Cabin and a reception for 100 guests at the U. C. T. Club followed the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coen of Marquette, wore a ballerina length gown of white satin with a net overskirt and a white satin beaded cloche. She carried an orchid. Miss Barbara Viau was maid of honor. Her slate blue tulle dress was made with three-quarter length sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a white beaded hat and carried white carnations.

Vernon Paquette of Detroit served as best man for his nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Beaudry of 1302 Ludington St.

Mrs. Coen chose a navy blue ensemble for her daughter's wedding. She carried red roses. Mrs. Beaudry wore a two-piece brown faille dress with brown accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses.

The newlyweds went to Milwaukee for their honeymoon. Young Mr. Beaudry will report at Tucson, Ariz., and his bride is remaining in Escanaba for the present. Both are Escanaba High School graduates. The bridegroom, who enlisted in the United States Air Force in January received his basic training at Parks Air Base in California and completed six months of instruction in the Air Training Command, specializing in aircraft mechanic medium bomber at Sheppard.

Here for the wedding were Mrs. J. A. Varied subjects occupied the attention of the Escanaba Parent Teacher Council at its meeting held last night at Escanaba Junior High School with Mrs. Glenn E. Matheson, president, presiding, and representatives from all the school units in attendance.

Mrs. Oliver Fuller, Mrs. Glenford Leonard and Mrs. Jesse Pomazal were named on the nominating committee for the year.

A detailed discussion of the schools' Halloween carnivals was held. The Council voted to urge through the PTA that the trick or treat practice be limited to Friday night. The group also recommended the usual compensation for school custodians for their assistance at the carnivals.

Announcement was made of the PTA session in connection with the M. E. A. meeting here. The conference will be held Oct. 1 at 1:30 p. m. at the K. of C. Club with Otto Yntema, treasurer of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Charles Neldrett, director of district service, Mrs. Morris Cohodes, vice president of District A, and Mrs. Robert Landre, district director, conducting a workshop dealing with techniques and programs.

The school insurance plan was discussed with a report by Supt. John A. Lemmer. A bicycle test given children several years ago was brought to the Council's attention and will be further investigated. Further investigation also will be made of dangerous street crossings on school days.

Unit presidents were asked to appoint a member to the coffee committee for the PTA division meeting at the MEA conference.

Bernice Tweedy, Lief L. Nelson Exchange Vows

Immanuel Lutheran Church, bouquets of rust gladiolus and bronze and yellow pompons gracing its altar, was the setting Saturday, Sept. 19, for the wedding of Miss Bernice Alice Tweedy and Lief Lawrence Nelson Jr. The 2 p. m. double ring candlelight service was solemnized by the Rev. Johannes Rittstad.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tweedy, 420 S. 12th St. The groom Lief L. Nelson, 204 S. 22nd St. are young Mr. Nelson's parents.

Imported French Chantilly style lace formed the scalloped bodice of the bride's gown with an off-the-shoulder effect formed by a sheer yoke of double nylon net with a Queen Ann collar. Chantilly lace over satin, scalloped to reveal nylon tulle ruffling formed the chapel length skirt. Her veil of illusion was caught to a lace beaded crown. She carried white pompons and Happiness roses in cascade style with satin knotted showers.

Mrs. Gus Nelson of Rhinelander, Wis., matron of honor, wore strapless gown of coral, chapel length with a lace jacket and full nylon net skirt over tulle. She carried bronze and yellow pompons.

Gus Nelson was best man and Walter Nelson and Stephen Nault seated the guests.

Mrs. Pearl St. Clair was organist of the service. Mrs. J. Herbert sang "O Perfect Love" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Mrs. Tweedy wore a two piece black dress with black and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Navy blue with blue and white accessories formed the ensemble worn by the bridegroom's mother. Their corsages were rubrum lilies.

Afternoon Reception

The afternoon reception for 175 guests was held at Carpenter's Hall. The table centerpiece was of mixed fall flowers.

The young newlyweds will live at 1203 1st Ave. N. in Escanaba. Both are Escanaba High School graduates.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gus Nelson Jr. of Rhinelander, Mrs. Alice Tweedy of Rantoul, Ill., Mrs. Charles

Pete Kutches, former St. Joe athlete, made his college varsity football debut last Saturday as the Wyoming Cowboys smothered New Mexico A & M 47-0. Kutches, shifted from a tailback to a wing-back by new coach Phil Dickens, went into action shortly after the opening kickoff and played all but five minutes of the one-sided contest. Although he didn't score, the former All-U. P. football and basketball star was outstanding on offense and defense.

A number of Escanaba people who followed Kutches closely in his high school days are making plans to see him in action next month when the Cowboys play the University of Iowa. The game will be played at the Hawkeyes' 53,000 capacity stadium in Iowa City. Forest Evaschski, famed Michigan grid star who graduated in 1941, is the Iowa coach. The two teams did not meet last year.

Probably the biggest halfback in the Upper Peninsula was a star for Munising as the Mustangs trampled Negaunee 20-6 Saturday afternoon. George Monroe, a 250-pound sophomore, was shifted from tackle to a halfback last week and scored Munising's first TD.

Ted Baldwin, who ought to know, recently called attention to an error in the series of scores between Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba High. The series, as has been published for years in the Press, lists a 66-6 victory for Soo in 1914. Ted, a member of that EHS team, showed us a yearbook which proves there was no game between the two schools that season.

Reynolds Sparkles In Yankees' 7-2 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Allie Reynolds may have fast-balled his way into the job of opening the World Series for the New York Yankees a week from today.

The 36-year-old speed merchant gave Charlie Dressen's spies an eye-filling Tuesday night of some of the best pitching by any Yankee this season.

Working against the admittedly weak Philadelphia Athletics, Reynolds struck out 11 in seven innings while giving up two measly singles and walking four.

6-2 Series Record

Reynolds, a 20 game winner a year ago, was sent to the bull pen late this spring because manager Stengel considered him more valuable in relief.

In five World Series he has pitched 69 1-3 innings in 12 games and has a 6-2 record.

The Yankees beat Philadelphia 7-2 Tuesday night. Philadelphia's two runs were scored off Bob Kuzava who pitched the last two innings. One of them was Gus Zernial's 42nd home run, which kept him one ahead of Cleveland's Al Rosen in the American League home run derby.

Rosen hit his 41st in Cleveland's 5-3 decision over Chicago. By winning the Indians virtually clinched second place. They lead the White Sox by three games with four to play.

Manistique Has Fight To Win Newberry Game

MANISTIQUE — "If fight will win a football game, then we will win the match with Newberry Saturday." Coach Richard Bonifas of the Manistique Emeralds predicted today.

He said his Green and Whites were in very high spirits, despite the fact that this will be the first time in 10 games that Manistique's squad goes into a game as the "underdog." In the preceding 10 games, he said, the Emeralds were rated favorites.

The squad this week is working hard to get more reliable substitutes, the coach said. We're also boning up on defense and will get something to stop Newberry's running attack, Coach Bonifas added.

Lack Substitutes

In addition, he said, the squad is polishing off for better tackling, and a few new plays are being added. Manistique, he said, has a "pretty fair" first string, but substitutes are not up to expectations. "About midway through a game, we begin to look tired," he noted.

Newberry, Bonifas observed, has great depth and can substitute six or seven men when switching from offense to defense. The Indians trounced Manistique 19-6 three weeks ago.

Two of Manistique's first stringers will definitely be out of the game at Newberry this week. They are Darrell Bertrand, half-back and linebacker who has a fractured wrist and Pat LaFave, end and wingback who has an injured hip.

Out Of Action

It is doubtful whether Gerald Walstrom, who has a bruised thigh muscle, will see action this week, and Quarterback Donald Tigras, who injured a hand in the game with Gladstone Friday, will probably see only limited action in the 2 p. m. tilt with Newberry.

Three Manistique players chalked up performances rated high by Coach Bonifas in the clash with Gladstone. They were Jim Cowman, defensive line-backer who will go in for Bertrand at Newberry; Elroy Mersnick, whose offensive and defensive tackling led the way for substitution for Walstrom; and Edward Busch, whose "good, consistent" tackling on defense won praise from Coach Bonifas.

The Manistique reserve squad meets the Newberry Jayvees at Manistique Friday night.

Gladstone Holds Edge In Marquette Series

Marquette Gravenet High School and Gladstone will be meeting for the 29th time in football when the two teams clash at 8 p. m. Saturday on Memorial Field in Marquette.

In a series that started in 1913 Gladstone holds a commanding edge, the Braves winning 20 times and Marquette eight. Gladstone has scored 400 points in the 28 contests and Marquette 212.

Fifteen of the clashes have been played in Marquette where the Redmen won five, while only winning three of 13 in the Delta County city.

Marquette Blanked 13 Times

After playing in 1913, the schools did not meet again until 1923. After the 1924 game the series ran without interruption from 1926 through 1935. The two teams did not play each other in 1936 and 1937, but have tangled regularly beginning with the 1938 tussle.

Marquette has the unenviable record of being shut out in 13 of the 28 games, nearly half, while Gladstone has been blanked on five occasions.

Rumor Lopez To Move Over To Cincinnati

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez will leave the second place Cleveland Indians of the American League to manage the second division National League Cincinnati Redlegs next year, it was learned today.

Lopez is expected to be succeeded by George (Birdie) Tebbets, former Cleveland catcher who currently is manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association. Indianapolis is a farm team of the Indians.

In Cincinnati, general manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs said, "no comment," when asked if Lopez had been hired.

The Cincinnati job was left vacant last week when Rogers Hornsby was fired.

The second place Indians have also finished runner-up to the New York Yankees in the two previous seasons under Lopez's guidance.

Liska Picks Spartans, And Michigan To Win

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—They have you going and coming this one-plateon football season, but here's another plunge into midwest prognosticating:

Michigan State 20, Iowa 13 — This Big Ten opener unveils powerful Michigan State as a conference member. Off their terrific 1952 momentum, we have to pick MSC's Spartans. But Forest Evaschski's Hawkeyes have a stout line and some good runners. The Spartans may be in for a busy afternoon.

Notre Dame 19, Oklahoma 12 — From the sound of Frank Leahy and Bud Wilkinson, this game should have been cancelled for further practice by both teams. The Irish, cripples and all, figure to have better staying power than the Sooners, who missed the boat last year at South Bend.

Minnesota 14, Southern California 13 — A vote for Paul Giel, despite the Trojans' 29-13 victory over Washington State.

Ohio State 21, Indiana 7 — Buckeye partisans expect a conference title. Indiana lacks the horses to cope with a rugged OSU line and Johnny Borton.

Marquette 21, Cincinnati 14 — The Hilltoppers are flexing sound muscles this season.

Dodgers Boast Best Outfield

NEW YORK (AP)—If the 1953 World Series boils down to a battle of the outfields, the Brooklyn Dodgers win for the first time.

The Brooks' outfield of Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Jackie Robinson can hit hard and often, can run and throw.

The regular New York Yankee outfielders, Gene Woodling, Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer, are tried and true performers. But on this year's records, they must be rated second to the Dodger threesome. Furillo has made one of the year's greatest comebacks his year, and unless someone suddenly gets hot, he's a cinch to win the National League's batting title (.344).

Snider .337 has blasted 41 home runs and driven in 123 runs. He starred in the '52 series. Robinson, who has hit .332, is expected to have some trouble in left field in Yankee Stadium where the shadows and haze often make judging a fly ball difficult.

The big question in the Yankee outfield is whether Mickey Mantle's injured right knee will stand up. The speedy switch-hitter has been somewhat of a disappointment this year. He's only a shade over the .300 mark, with 21 homers.

Woodling, who batted .348 in the series last year, and Bauer are capable outfielders and can hit the long ball.

Michigan State won two national championships during the 1952 Fall season. The undefeated football team was voted the national championship while the cross country team swept to first place in the NCAA, ICAA and Big Ten meets.

Tigers Lose Final Home Stand To Browns, 7-3

DETROIT (AP)—One thing about the Detroit Tigers—they were consistent during the 1953 season. Consistently bad, that is.

At home, the Tigers had a 30-47 record. On the road, their mark was 29-45. Not much difference. They closed out their home season Tuesday night and the St. Louis Browns drubbed them, 7-3. Satchel Paige pitched the first seven innings to pick up his third victory of the season. He has lost nine.

46 Or 56?

According to the record books, Paige was supposed to be 46 years old yesterday. He's probably nearer 56 but that doesn't make any difference to Old Satchmo. He still burns them in like a high schooler. Paige gave up only one hit in the first seven innings—a home run by Fred Hatfield in the opening inning. After that he chilled the Tigers until the eighth, when they knocked him out with three straight singles.

Bob Miller, bonus rookie making his first start, was the loser. And the 18-year-old southpaw was literally knocked out of the box. In the fifth inning, when the Browns scored three times, he was hit in the head by a line drive off the bat of Les Moss.

Over 20,000 Fans

Miller retained consciousness but was taken to Ford Hospital for examination. He said he felt all right.

It was a chilly, damp night but 20,072 turned out to bade farewell to the Tigers. That made their home attendance 884,658.

The Tigers have only three games remaining. They'll play the Cleveland Indians in Cleveland Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

QUESTION: There are runners on first and second bases with one out. The batter pops up down the first base line, the ball being declared an infield fly. Coming down, the runner standing on first base. Aren't both the runner and batter out?

—Steve Phillips.

Answer: No runner touching his base shall be out if hit by a ball that is declared an infield fly, but the batter is out. If a runner is off his base when struck by a declared infield fly ball, both he and the batter are out.

Former Buddies To Clash

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING — A couple of one-time buddies and bunkmates will be glaring at each other across the football field when Michigan State meets Iowa Saturday.

There's no need for a phoney buildup of the rivalry between MSC Coach Biggie Munn and Iowa's Forest Evashevski — this one is for real.

There's more than usual interest in this football game, of course, because Michigan State, the national champion last year, is rated number two in the nation behind Notre Dame this season.

Big Ten Debut

The Spartans will be playing their first official Big Ten game and will be shooting for 25 victories in a row.

But the personalities involved make this game even more interesting.

Here's some of the background. Munn was an assistant coach at the University of Michigan when Evashevski was gaining fame as a blocking back teamed with the great Tom Harmon.

He grew to like the personable Evashevski and in 1946, when Munn was head coach at Syracuse, he named Evy as his backfield coach.

When Munn made the move to Michigan State in 1947, Evashevski went along with him.

For a while, Evashevski was considered the "crown prince" in the Michigan State coaching setup. He and Munn were the closest of personal friends and took off on camping and fishing trips together.

But after a year or so a coolness developed. Evashevski was becoming a spokesman for the football setup and was assuming a lot of credit for the early successes.

He made no secret of the fact that he was aiming at a head coaching job somewhere. The break came in 1949.

Michigan State made a swing west after that to play Oregon

State and Arizona as the last two games of the season.

Spartans Were Upset

Significantly, Evashevski was reading the best-selling historical novel "The Way West" as the plane winged toward the coast.

Oregon State, coached by another former Munn assistant, Kip Taylor, upset Michigan State 25-20.

The Michigan State squad retired to push Arrowhead Springs to lick its wounds while Munn brooded on the general ingratitude of former assistants.

Two football players took off on the town while the team was resting there and subsequently were bounced from the squad.

The same night, Evashevski took off also. It later developed he had been visiting with his old running mate, Tom Harmon, who talked up the advantages of West Coast coaching.

Look Washington Job

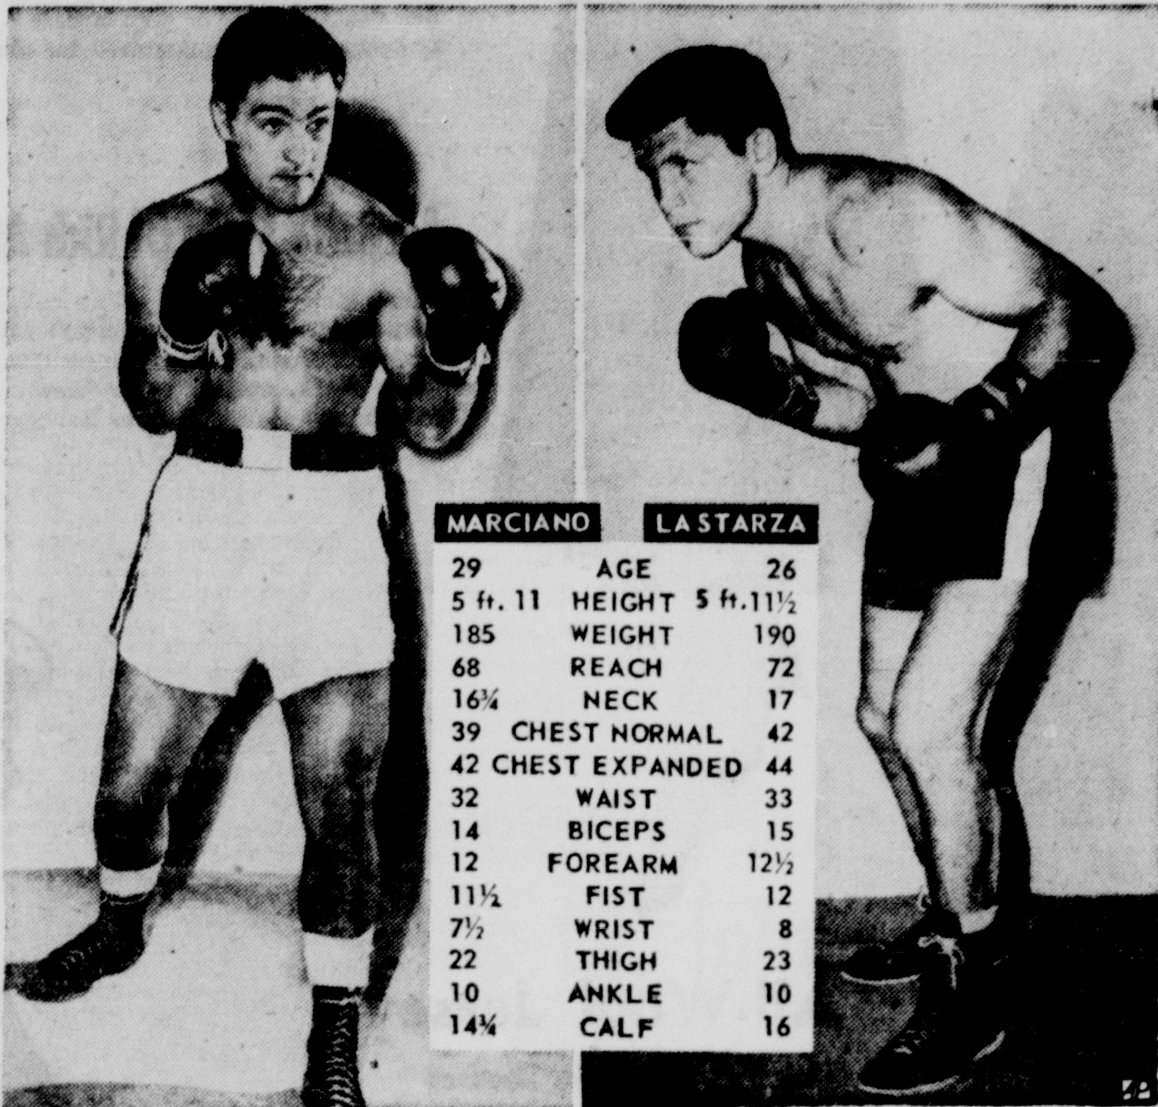

Evashevski left after the season was over to assume the head coaching job at Washington State. With him he took two of Munn's prize assistants—Al Kircher, now Washington State coach, and Bob Flora, with Evy at Iowa.

So Munn lost three assistants at one whack.

Evashevski is known to be aiming at this one, aching to cut Michigan State down to size. Munn wouldn't enjoy being beaten again by a former assistant.

There's been a jesting prediction that everything but razors and land mines will be used in this football game.

It all helps to make things interesting.

Odds On Heavyweight Champion Climb, Big Gate Is Expected

NEW YORK — The odds favoring heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano over challenger Roland LaStarza soared to 4 1/2 to 1 today. They may go even higher before the two step into the Polo Grounds ring Thursday night for their 15-round title fight.

There are few among the fight mob who give the 26-year old contender a chance, but ticket scalpers were demanding and getting handsome premiums for the $30 ringside seats within the first ten rows.

Expects Good Gate

Jim Norris, the president of the promoting International Boxing Club, predicted that he would have at least $300,000 in the till the morning of the fight.

"With any kind of a break in the weather we'll do at least $100,000 at the Polo Grounds for $400,000 or better," said big Jim.

"With the minimum guarantee of $100,000 for theater-TV," he added, "the fighters have every chance of getting paid off on $500,000."

No TV To Homes

The bout, starting at 8:30 p. m., (CST), won't be broadcast or telecast into homes. A telecast will be beamed over a closed circuit to 45 theaters in 34 cities at prices running about $3.60 a head.

There was more betting action reported on knockouts within a certain number of rounds than on the actual outcome. It was 12 to 5 that Roland would not go the distance; 9 to 5 LaStarza wouldn't go 12; and even money that Rocky would stop his opponent within eight. The odds were 8 to 1 that Roland wouldn't knock out the champion.

See Change In Williams Since Korean Service

By JOE REICHLER
BOSTON — Those who claim to know him best insist that Ted Williams is a changed man since his return from Korea.

The Williams before the war was known, of course, to express, by word or gesture, his resentment of and contempt for abusive fans. He was known to wrangle with newspapermen and photographers and could be downright rude on occasion.

The Korean War veteran of today has become much more tolerant. He has learned to accept people for what they are.

Basically, Williams is still the same shy, sensitive and at times complex person who is ever trying to cover up a kind inner nature with a gruff, hard-boiled exterior.

Williams blows a fuse when anyone suggested he may have changed.

"I haven't changed in the least. I still think most newspapermen are jerks—and that goes for you, too. They don't like me because I tell them what I think of them."

Williams would be surprised, however, to learn that most newspapermen like him. The fans generally, and those in Boston specifically, idolize him despite his outward indifference to them.

"Nobody bores Williams any more," said sports writer Bob Holbrook of the Boston Globe. "He still doesn't tip his hat and still ignores them. But the fans don't care. He's their boy."

No One Knows Where Next Major Team Will Wind Up

NEW YORK — Toronto or Montreal—and not Baltimore as everyone thinks will get the St. Louis Browns' American League franchise in the opinion of one major league executive, but his prediction ran into denials on all sides today.

The executive, who asked not to be identified said that "at least three clubs will vote against moving the Browns to Baltimore."

"Clark Griffith of Washington and the Macks of Philadelphia don't want Bill Veeck Browns' owner between them," he continued. "Don't expect the Yankees to vote for Baltimore either."

"I'd say it is a 60-40 proposition right now between Toronto and Montreal with the odds favoring Toronto."

But all the parties concerned were quick to deny that the executive had had his facts straight.

"It's news to me," said Veeck in Chicago. "That informant knows things I don't."

"I'll vote for Baltimore no matter what the other clubs favor," said Griffith.

Roy Mack, executive vice-president of the A's, said "I intend to go to the owners' meeting with an open mind." That also was the attitude of president Dan Topping of the Yankees.

The meeting to decide on the fate of the Browns is scheduled here Sunday.

GLADSTONE

Scouts Tell Of Big Jamboree

Dan Sinclair and Tom O'Brien, two of the four members of Gladstone Scout troops to attend the Boy Scout Jamboree at Irvine Ranch in California in July presented an interesting account of the event before the Gladstone Rotary club at the regular weekly meeting Monday.

Sixty-four boys and 9 men of the Hiawathaland Council were at the Jamboree leaving here July 11 and returning July 26. Total attendance was in the neighborhood of 55,000 including the adults and Scouts of 11 foreign nations were represented.

The guest appearance of a number of screen and radio stars including Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Dorothy Lamour and Bob Hope was one of the highlights of the outing.

Enroute to the coast the boys visited in Salt Lake City where many toured the city visiting Temple Square while others swam in the Great Salt Lake.

Fresh food was brought to the camp daily and nothing was held over to prevent possibility of contamination. Cooking was by charcoal and ten carloads furnished by a Marquette industry were used.

The boys swam in the Pacific Ocean while Coast Guard kept watch and helicopters hovered overhead.

Enroute home the group visited the Grand Canyon.

Both declared attending the Jamboree a thrilling experience.

Prospects Good For Agriculture

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson told bankers that the nation's farm policy should veer away from what he called centralization of power and undue dependence on government, and that they could help strengthen the rural economy.

His talk was prepared for the convention of the American Bankers Assn. In another prepared speech, W. Harold Brenton, president of the association, said bankers must become "sound money" missionaries throughout the country, if financial disturbances calling for government intervention are to be avoided.

Benson said a new farm program based on the principles of economic freedom was needed. He said inadequacies of the present program included:

1. Failure to build farm markets at fair prices.
2. Interference with needed adjustments in farming.
3. Tendencies to price crops such as wheat and cotton out of world markets and dairy products out of domestic markets.
4. Failure to provide farmers with incentives for progress.

Benson called upon the nation's bankers to stay with their farmer customers "even when weather or economic conditions make debt repayment less favorable."

"Prospects for American agriculture are good," he declared. He said employment is high, consumers are demanding a good diet, and the population is increasing—all operating, he said, to form a sound basis for farming.

"Rural banks are faced with a wonderful opportunity to strengthen the rural economy," he said.

101 Diesel Engines Bought By C&NW Put Into Service

CHICAGO—The last of 101 diesel locomotives ordered this year by the Chicago and North Western Railway is being delivered this week, it is announced by Paul E. Feucht, president of the railway system.

Costing more than $16,200,000, the new diesels were the largest number to be ordered at one time by the railway system and will produce an estimated annual savings in operating costs of approximately $2,807,000, Feucht said.

"As a result of the new locomotive deliveries, diesel freight performance on the North Western is rapidly approaching 100 per cent," he said. "For the first seven months of this year, 95 per cent of the gross ton mileage of our freight service was handled with diesel power as compared with 82.8 per cent for the year 1952. This will increase even more in the next few months as the new locomotives are utilized to their fullest extent."

Menominee Firm Manufactures Its Millionth Shell

MENOMINEE—Lloyd Manufacturing Company which won Army and Navy "E" awards for excellence in defense production in World War II, has achieved another goal in the nation's postwar defense program. It has completed production of 1,000,000 mortar projectiles (81-millimeter shell casings) since production began in May, 1952.

Lloyd, a subsidiary of Heywood Wakefield Company, produced a similar shell casing for World War II. The record it achieved in craftsmanship and the speed and accuracy with which it met the government demands, brought Lloyd a new contract when the U. S. Ordnance Department set up its current postwar defense program, which was accelerated by the Korean War.

Selected in January, 1951 for an original contract which was to run into a value of several million dollars, Lloyd set up its production line and began manufacture of the projectile in May, 1952. The product is a highly specialized defense item and Lloyd management has complimented the skilled craftsmen in its plant for the pride they took in supplying the needs of the military forces while attaining nationwide recognition for the company and themselves. At peak production, Lloyd employed about 130 workmen in the shell department, now employs fewer.
